

Name:

Date:

5
total marks

Headings and Sub-Headings Mini Test

1. A new book is on sale. It is called 'Owls'. Think of 3 sub-headings that you might find in this book.

1 mark

a.

b.

c.

2. Put a cross next to the statements that are false.

1 mark

Sub-headings are used to help readers find information quickly.

Sub-headings are used to make texts easier to read.

Sub-headings have no punctuation.

Sub-headings help readers skim and scan.

3. Read this paragraph. Think of 2 different sub-headings you could use for it.

1 mark

Making pots out of clay is difficult. Some potters roll out long, thin strips of clay and wind them round to make the shape of their pot. Other potters use a potter's wheel, which is a machine that spins the clay round whilst the potter moves the clay into shape with their hands.

a.

b.

total for this page

4. How to Get Ready in the Morning is the sub-heading for a paragraph.

Write a short paragraph that would make sense under this sub-heading.

1 mark

5. An author wants to write a book that tells his readers about toys. He decides on three chapters. These are the headings for the chapters:

Toys Today

Toys in the Past

Toys of the Future

What should he call his book?

Title -

1 mark

total for this page