

Indus Valley Travel Guide

Use your imagination, step back in time and imagine you are a travel agent who is responsible for advertising the Indus Valley as a travel destination!

Your job is to write a brochure or leaflet for the Indus Valley which is to be included in the ancient civilisations travel guide.

You should use your knowledge of the location, physical features and some key events of the Indus Valley civilisation to sell it to potential visitors.

1. Use the map you created to point out interesting facts about the geographical features, including rivers and mountains and describe them in more detail.
2. Create your own drawings and diagrams to show your readers how appealing the Indus Valley looks.
3. Research some events or interesting facts about the Indus Valley to entice customers to want to visit e.g. local weather stats.
4. Make your brochure/leaflet bright, colourful and easy to read.
5. You could include catchy slogans and persuasive language to tempt your readers.
