

Write as many sentences as you can using your senses.
You are trying to enable your reader to imagine that they are there!

What sounds might you hear in Professor Plum's laboratory?

Can you use your senses to describe what it would be like to be in there?