Writing	Write a book review Choose one of the books you've read over the last week or two and write a review. Your review should include… A brief summary of what the story is about – not too much information, so your reading audience will be intrigued. Your opinion on the author style of writing and the book itself. Who you would recommend this book to.
Home Learning Project	Science: To determine the conductivity of different materials and link this to their uses. Designing a space suit 1. Draw your spacesuit design (be as creativity and unique as possible). 2. Label the different parts of the suit and the material you would use for each part. 3. Write explanations for the material choices alongside your drawing. Design Your Own Spacesuit Be an Engineer! Design a spacesuit using everyday materials. Think About: • Temperature: Insulating layers for heat retention. • Touchscreen: Conductive material on fingertips. • Sun protection: Shiny materials reflect sunlight. • Dust & oxygen: Label air/water locations. Remember: Insulators (fabric) protect from heat; conductors (metal) carry electricity. Due: Wednesday 3rd December 2025
